MESSAGE FROM DEAN

Now, more than ever, the legal profession is of vital importance in our world. It is a career choice that has the potential to benefit society and impact people’s quality of life in profound ways — thus, it is also a choice that carries significant responsibility. At the Barclay College of Law, our focus is on preparing students to be leaders in thought and action. Our faculty members produce research addressing pressing legal issues and engage in work that shapes public discourse.

Vision Statement

The Cavalla International University Barclay College of Law cultivates analytical ability, ethical values and a spirit of collegiality that prepare our students for meaningful careers benefiting society. We enrich human knowledge and the principles of justice through superior scholarship. At the center of our vibrant community is Barclay’s renowned faculty. They are leading scholars in their respective fields, whose multi-disciplinary research and expertise inform policies and decision makers at the highest levels. But perhaps most importantly, they are dedicated teachers who share a common goal of inspiring the next generation of lawyers to reach the highest standards. We use the Socratic Method and provide live course sessions.

A hallmark of the Barclay College of Law learning experience is our small class sizes, where students engage closely with one another and their professors. Our students are also encouraged to take full advantage of the depth and breadth of the abundant resources across the university. I have always believed that Barclay College of Law is home to the best students in the world, who enrich our academic environment with their wide range of experiences, perspectives and ideas. We are among the most diverse law schools nationwide, and we value this diversity as a pillar of our community. We endeavor to be a place where all feel welcome, and where all have access to support, they need to thrive as students and as individuals.

I invite you to learn more about what makes Barclay College of Law such a dynamic and special place. As Barclay College of Law’s dean, my leadership is about creating a new legacy and standing on the shoulders of giants. This role is indeed an avenue for cultivating change, with the potential to affect so many lives in a meaningful way. I am proud to carry forward that mindset of service — and embrace my obligation of making a positive difference in our world.

All the best,

Ciro Martinez

Dr. Ciro Martinez
Dean of Barclay College of Law

History

Cavalla International University is named after the USS Cavalla 244 Submarine (“Avenger of Pearl Harbor”) because of its fierceness in the international waters of Asia during World War II. From 1944-1946, Cavalla was an attack submarine, sinking over 34,000 tons of enemy shipping including the Imperial Japanese Navy’s carrier, Shokaku during the Battle of the Philippine Seas. After the war, she was decommissioned and placed in the Navy Reserve Fleet, New London CT.

The USS Cavalla (SS-244) was awarded the Presidential Unit Citation for actions on her first patrol near the Philippines from May 31 to Aug 3, 1944, under the command of Lt. Cdr. Herman J. Kossler (1911-1988). She was also awarded four Battle Stars for operations in the Pacific. The USS Cavalla is best known as the “Avenger of Pearl Harbor” and earned the prestigious Presidential Unit Citation for sinking the Japanese Aircraft Carrier, Shokaku, a vessel that attacked Pearl Harbor.

On 21 Jan 1971, the USS Cavalla became a museum ship at Seawolf Park, in Galveston, Texas. In 1971, the U.S. Navy transferred possession of Cavalla to the Texas Submarine Veterans of WWII as a memorial to the lost submarine USS Seawolf. (Galveston Naval Museum – USS Cavalla, History)

CORE VALUES

Cavalla International University is an American International Accelerated University. Currently, the university offers all its programs online. The faculty at Cavalla International University (CIU) endeavors to provide excellent, affordable, and flexible educational programs to all its students. Cavalla International University was established in 1990 as a correspondence school, specializing in providing high quality professional education to working adults who wanted to pursue a specific area of expertise in Accounting, Business, Finance, Human Resource, Computer training and Marketing. The school continues to provide professional education on a course-by-course basis until 1998 when the board and faculty approved the college to be a full-fledged degree granting institution. The Doctor of Juris (J.D.) and the undergraduate degrees were subsequently initiated in the same year and the college was reclassified as a university.

The primary goal of the university since then has been to provide excellent professional education to busy working adults who may not be able to attend traditional university due to family commitment, job commitment, high cost of attending college/university and other demands of society that may prevent career minded people from pursuing their academic goals. In 2005 the university was approved to begin granting master's degrees and three years later in 2008 the Board of Trustees approved the university to grant Doctor of Philosophy Degrees. The university does not have residency requirements for students. As an international university, CIU endeavors to recruit qualified and reputable professors from the international community. The university offers professional and academic degrees. Cavalla International University has excellent world class educational programs. The programs are inexpensive in comparison to American Universities with similar programs, it has flexible programs to meet the needs of busy working adults and mothers. The online nature of the University affords students the chance to learn both theory and practice of their specific area of study.

The University has an open enrollment policy. Students can apply anytime during a semester. However, applications received after a semester has begun will be processed and evaluated for the next semester. Students can choose to enroll in one of our accelerated programs. The standard semester is 12 weeks, and the University has two accelerated programs: 6 weeks and 8 weeks. Cavalla International University has excellent world class educational programs. MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Horatius Jackie Williams, JD, LLM, PhD
President and Chancellor
Cavalla International University

We would like to welcome you to Cavalla International University (CIU) and to congratulate you on your decision to become part of our international community of students and professors. The university values and welcomes everyone and takes special interest in helping students achieve their academic goals. The goal of CIU is to provide excellent, flexible, and affordable education to anyone from anywhere in the world. “CIU actually brings high quality American Education at your door, with three accelerated options to help you complete your program a year earlier.”

We provide high quality educational study programs that will benefit our students and help them appreciate their decision to study at our institution. We take pride in the fact that our students graduate with high confidence and possess the necessary skills needed to enhance their expertise and career advancement.

The University has six colleges and a graduate School, including Barclay College of Law, and three accelerated semester options to help our students complete their programs a year earlier and to begin earning income before what would have been their graduation date at another university. We are pleased that you are considering our world class research programs that are also designed to develop professionals with advanced research skills. Please take time to read through our academic programs, while paying attention to your area of interest as well as the course descriptions.

We would like to commend you for your interest in studying at Cavalla International University. An education at Cavalla International University will enable you to appreciate the art of studying and help you develop the confidence needed to approach all angles of your professional life. We look forward to formerly welcome you and to introduce you to our international faculties to and to create a program that fits your educational and career needs.

MISSION STATEMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

The mission of Cavalla University is to provide high quality and excellent education to its students. The university seeks to prepare students to meet the challenges of today's complex and rapidly changing society. Students and faculty at CIU foster a commitment of excellence in studying traditional academic disciplines, as well as innovation in exploring questions that cross disciplinary boundaries. CIU encourages faculty and students to be independent thinkers or less restrictive in their ideas while conducting research. This may involve exploring and investing in established academic research areas and contradicting the findings if necessary. The mission of CIU therefore challenges the students to integrate their personal and professional life experiences with the required academic work in their areas of specialization.

GOALS

The goal of the university is to enable students to develop a high level of confidence that will be useful in their professional life and to their employers. At the end of the program students should be able to assimilate their theoretical knowledge with their areas of practice. This will enable students to generate high quality research, understanding of their specialties and to put the learned knowledge to practical use. The university is committed to providing an exchange of knowledge, understanding and scholarly work with their global communities. The university does this by making students and faculty research work available to various communities, individuals, businesses, and organizations that may seek to utilize research the findings. At the end, the ultimate goal of CIU is to produce graduates that are highly qualified and possess the necessary skills which will enable them to be confident and productive to their communities.

OBJECTIVES

1. To enable students to learn through high level research with the help of faculty mentors.
2. To provide a high level of education to students who may not otherwise have the financial means or flexibility to attend traditional universities.
3. To enable students to become scholars or experts with a broadened approach in their area of specialization that can benefit them professionally.
4. To prepare students to be independent thinkers who have great intellectual, analytical, and critical skills.
5. To produce highly qualified and productive professionals for the global community.

LAW SCHOOL MISSION

The Cavalla International University – Barclay College of Law strives to develop outstanding professionals educated in law. Through excellent teaching in both classroom and clinical settings, the school seeks to prepare our students for productive leadership and professional roles in the law, public service, business, and government, in Maryland, the nation, and beyond. In their capacity as scholars, members of the faculty contribute to the development of law-related knowledge and enhanced understanding of the functioning of law and justice. We underscore our public responsibilities as lawyers and our connection to the broader community by enhancing access to justice, by providing pro bono legal services, and by serving as a resource for members of the profession and others who work to achieve justice and a better-functioning society.

To achieve our mission, we are dedicated to the following core commitments:

- Excellence in classroom and experiential teaching that facilitates student understanding of the knowledge, skills, ethics, and values they need to achieve success as lawyers, as leaders, and in other professional roles.
- The creation, synthesis, and dissemination of law-related knowledge that assists lawyers, judges, scholars, and other professionals and leaders in society in understanding how law and justice shape our world.
- The pursuit of justice through improving legal-delivery systems, contributing expertise to public discourse, and serving those, particularly in our city and state, who suffer historic, systemic or other disadvantage and face challenges in effectively accessing the legal system.
- Interdisciplinary education and scholarship are designed to promote comprehensive understanding of complex social and policy issues and to develop interdisciplinary approaches to address them.
- The pursuit of diversity among our students, our faculty, and the legal profession.
- A commitment to collaboration, engagement, and professionalism in our interactions with our students, our colleagues in the law and in other disciplines, and the greater community.

TRANSFERABILITY OF CREDITS

The transferability of credits you earn at Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law is at the discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the degree or certificate you earn in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the credits, degree or certificate that you earn at this institution are not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason, you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. Contact the Registrar Office for additional information for transfer of credits.

Those who are attending the JD Program or dual degree program can transfer up to 42 academic credits for course work completed toward an LLB degree program. International students can transfer up to 18 academic credits for course work completed toward an LLB degree program. Undergraduate students must complete the full 120 academic credits at the law school. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law to determine if your credits, degree or certificate will transfer. For more information on the transferability of credits into Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law, please refer to the Transfer Credit policies, found within the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

United States Bar Requirements

International students who have completed LL.B. degree programs outside the United States may be eligible to take the bar exam in certain jurisdictions in the United States. Transfers may be possible to the 4-year joint LLB/JD degree (where years 3 and 4 are spent at another accredited law school) or the Law with Another Legal System LLB, where year 3 is spent at another regionally accredited law school or university in the United States or abroad. International LLB students who plan to take a U.S. state bar exam must carefully investigate the relevant requirements prior to beginning their studies. Some jurisdictions impose additional requirements. A comprehensive chart for the qualification policies of each U.S. jurisdiction for foreign educated attorneys can be viewed on the National Council of Bar Examiners' website at <https://reports.ncbex.org/comp-guide/charts/chart-4/>. It is the responsibility of the applicant to read the information provided by the Board of Legal Examiners in the state where they want to take the bar exam. It is also the applicant's responsibility to contact that state's Board of Legal Examiners with any questions, submit all documents and fees in a timely manner, and complete any LLB courses / U.S. law courses required by that state's Board of Legal Examiners. Each state has final authority to determine whether an applicant meets the requirements to sit for its bar examination. A summary of bar admission information by jurisdiction and contact information for each bar admission agency can be viewed at <https://www.ncbex.org/jurisdictions>

International Licensing Requirements

International students who have completed LL.B. degree programs in the United States may be eligible to take the bar exam in certain jurisdictions outside of their respected country. Eligibility to sit for a particular state bar exam varies from state to state. Completion of the LL.M. degree in itself does not guarantee eligibility to take a bar examination. In some states, including New York, California, and Texas, the completion of an LL.M. degree along with certain other criteria will allow attorneys with a non-U.S. law degree to sit for the bar exam. For more information, please refer to the Comprehensive Guide to Bar Admissions Requirements published by the National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE). For information on the California bar requirements for foreign trained attorneys, please visit the State Bar of California website.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – FIRST YEAR
Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6000	Introduction to Law, Legal Writing & Research	Introduces the student to research methods, analysis of legal concepts, and the art of legal writing. Students begin to learn the research, analysis and writing process through an assigned series of open and closed memoranda.
LLB 6005	Laws of Contract	This course is a foundation that is required by the legal professional bodies for professional practice. The aim is that students should acquire a solid knowledge of the legal principles and rules applied by the courts in Contract Law, whilst also developing fundamental legal skills of case analysis, synthesis and problem-solving. Students will undertake the study of Contract Law in its social, political and commercial context.
LLB 6010	Criminal Law	This course examines substantive criminal law both in its common law and modern statutory forms. Topics covered include culpability required for criminal responsibility (minimum conduct, voluntariness, etc.); exculpatory doctrines and defenses (duress, insanity, mistake, etc.); homicide, rape, and other criminal acts; and domestic violence. The course also explores the problems associated with imposition of criminal sanctions, as well as reasons for and appropriateness of particular punishments, including the death penalty.
LLB 6015	Law of Torts	This module introduces students to civil wrongs which are actionable at common law. These actionable wrongs, or 'torts', include negligence, trespassing to the person, nuisance, and defamation. In addition to learning about the legal principles which govern the application of each tort, the Law of Tort module offers students an insight into the wider policy landscape by examining the law's role in compensating injury, loss, or damage. The Law of Tort is one of the seven Foundation Subjects of relevance to students who intend to practice law in United States and EU countries.
LLB 6020	Civil & Criminal Procedures	This course focuses on the process and procedures of a civil and criminal lawsuit, from the filing of the complaint through the final appeal. The course will provide an introduction to the structure and operation of the state and federal court systems in the United States and will concentrate on cases brought in the federal courts, conducted pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil and Criminal Procedures. Topics include pleadings, pre-trial motions, the discovery process, trial by jury, judgments and relief, motions after judgment, and appeals. In addition, this course covers the constitutional law governing criminal procedure from arrest to trial, including right to counsel, arrest, searches, wiretapping, electronic eavesdropping, entrapment, interrogation and confession, lineups, showups, other pre-trial identification procedures, and grand jury investigations.

LLB 6025	Equity & Trusts (Wills, Trusts & Estates)	An introduction to the law of gratuitous transfers and decedents estates. Topics studied are intestate succession; elective share; wills, gifts and trusts. Primary emphasis is on those aspects which are considered important to the planning of family property arrangements. Throughout the course, the relevant portions of the Uniform Probate Code and the New York Estates, Powers and Trusts Law are studied.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – SECOND YEAR
Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6030	Land Law (Property Law)	The land law course examines the estates and interests in land in United States and European countries. Students will examine freehold and leasehold estates, as well as interests in land such as easements, restrictive covenants and mortgages. The module places a heavy emphasis on case law and statute use. These sources are used to put the various land rights into context and to demonstrate how estates and interests can be protected using the legislative regime.
LLB 6035	Constitutional & Administrative Law	This course is the basic course on United States constitutional law. The course explores the architecture of the United States Constitution and focuses on topics illustrating three core structural aspects of American constitutionalism: (1) the tradition of constitutional review by the judicial branch; (2) the configuration, interaction, and powers of the three branches of the national government; and (3) the Constitution's distribution of power between the federal and state governments. Constitutional and administrative (or public) law is concerned primarily with the legal rules and processes that structure and regulates a country's government, i.e. the relations amongst its key institutions, and between these institutions and the individual citizen.
LLB 6040	Evidence	This course involves analysis of the principles governing proof of facts in litigation under the Federal Rules of Evidence and under common law. Areas emphasized include relevance, hearsay, direct-examination and cross-examination, impeachment of witnesses, expert testimony, and privileges.
LLB 6045	Commercial and International Trade Law	This course involves an in-depth look, in a seminar-type setting, at different state-to-state dispute settlement systems in the international trade area. Although the principal focus will be WTO dispute settlement, the course will also examine the new or re-invigorated mechanisms in regional agreements (e.g., RCEP, CPTPP) and bilateral trade and investment agreements of the United States (USMCA, CAFTA) and the EU. In addition to examining the treaty provisions themselves, the course will involve the close reading of arbitral decisions, as a medium to examine real-world systemic issues regarding dispute settlement, such as the function of terms of reference, approaches to treaty interpretation, confidentiality, coherence between different bodies of international law, the role of precedent, standard of review, the scope of appellate review, implementation and compliance, and remedies. At the same time, students will gain familiarity with some of the leading substantive issues in international trade law.

LLB 6050	Human Rights & Social Justice Law	In this course, students will be introduced to the fundamental concepts and techniques of legal study and legal reasoning as well as the skills and attributes that you will be expected to develop as a law student. To enable this, the module will support you to actively engage in your personal and professional development and, in keeping with the identity and mission of the school, will set the scene for exploring key legal systems, processes and concepts through an explicit social justice perspective. You will develop your understanding of how the English legal system operates as well as exploring fundamental questions including ‘What is Law?’, ‘Why is Law the way it is?’, and ‘How does Law evolve?’. You will be introduced to a range of theoretical perspectives of law and explore how they help us understand, apply, and critique the application of the law in ways that promote social justice values such as equality, inclusion, fairness and access to justice.
LLB 6055	Remedies & Public Law	The study of the principal remedies available to litigants in private and public law litigation, including damages, injunctions, and restitution. The course will address compensatory and punitive damages; preventive relief, including injunctions and declaratory judgments; preventing unjust enrichment through restitution; ancillary remedies, such as contempt, levy and execution, attachment, garnishment, receivership, and attorneys' fees; and remedial defenses. Discussion will be given to the modern public law structural injunction, fluid class recoveries, and the tort reform movement. The modes of instruction will include case and problem methods. Public Law concerns the law creating and relating to the US and UK’s system of government. The module covers key issues in constitutional and administrative law, exploring legal questions and principles in the wider context of the practice of political actors and institutions. The module’s program of lectures and seminars will support students in developing a range of core legal and transferable skills and becoming effective independent learners.
LLB 6056	Law, Ethics & Governance	This course prepares business managers to function effectively within a legal and ethical environment and to recognize the social responsibility of the business enterprise. Students are exposed to U.S. legal systems and legal processes with emphasis on the areas of business law that are fundamental to the operations of a business entity. The course focuses on several areas of substantive commercial law relevant to the business manager, and is designed to foster the manager’s ability to recognize legal and ethical issues and their managerial implications, minimize the frequency and expense of legal conflict and litigation, as well as to discern the distinction between what is legal, what is ethical, and what is in the best interests of the firm and its stakeholders.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – THIRD YEAR
Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6060	Conflict of Law/International Law	The goal of the course is to offer an introduction to what in some countries is called “Governmental and Private International law” and is called conflict of laws in the US. This course is taught on a comparative basis and must be an “international” introduction to the discipline, meaning it prepares the student for work in several countries in handling cases of civil and of commercial law with foreign elements. The course describes problems that arise and approaches that are possible when a case shows links with more than one country whose laws may apply. The students will be taught to use the tools to resolve practical questions that most often arise in a range of problems in an international legal practice or in a business. The comparative nature of the course will force us to look at a plurality of national legal rules and to try and make abstractions from the particular rule; to describe and analyze tendencies or orientations.
LLB 6065	Law of the European Union (EU Law)	This course is aimed to build on the knowledge and skills communicated in the classes of Constitutional Law, and Law and Government in which students study the institutions and judicial system of the European Union and the United States Government. This course introduces students to the substantive law of the European Union and the United States Government; namely the internal market, competition law and policy and discrimination law, and to fulfill the requirements of the Law Society of the European Union and the United States. This course is to encourage interest in and awareness of the continuing process of European integration, and to show how underlying socio-political and economic factors shape the development of European Union law. The course is to further develop students’ transferable skills, in particular problem solving, written communication skills and autonomous learning skills; to encourage independent learning in preparation for the workshops and assessment.
LLB 6070	Professional Responsibility/Public Interest Lawyering	This course explores the attorney's ethical obligations to the profession, the court, and the client under the rules and requirements that govern attorney behavior, thereby allowing students to confront and resolve the ethical dilemmas that arise in the practice of law. This course is an opportunity for students to gain an understanding and insight into issues relating to access to justice and public interest law. You will undertake a placement in a public sector or nonprofit organization, develop skills and undertake tasks within a practical context, apply academic knowledge from your degree, and develop your personal and employability skills within a working environment. This experience will develop an understanding of access to justice policy and public interest law in a practical setting.

LLB 6075	Employment & Labor Law	Students will example employment law, which regulates the relationship between employers and employees. In addition, students will examine labor law that regulates the additional dimension that arises when employees select (or consider selecting) a labor union to represent them in their dealings with their employer.
LLB 6080	Advance Criminal Practice and Immigration	This course will allow students to experience the practical realities of practicing in the field of criminal law. Simulated proceedings each week will explore issues that typically arise during the course of a criminal prosecution. Each class session will simulate a different stage of a federal criminal prosecution, progressing chronologically from the preliminary/detention hearing through grand jury presentation, a variety of pretrial motions, a handful of trial related issues, sentencing, and ending with a supervised release violation hearing. In addition, this course will prepare students in substantive and procedural law and also in the skills required to obtain needed information, prepare necessary applications, and guide clients through the visa process, as well as advise businesses on immigration compliance issues.
LLB 6026	Advance Jurisprudence	Advance Jurisprudence aims to give students an understanding of the basic problems of legal theory: what is law? Why do we obey it? How is law related to morality? Is an unjust law really a law? How should judges decide cases? At the same time the module will introduce students to the work of some of the most important modern legal theorists. Students will also consider some of the crucial concerns of contemporary legal philosophy, such as the relationship between the rule of law, rights and democracy. Jurisprudence is taught in weekly lectures and longer fortnightly seminars. This maximizes the time available for discussion and evaluation of each week’s reading assignment, in both smaller sub-groups and the class as whole, which is the most interesting and effective way of gaining an appreciation of legal philosophy. Students will produce a group presentation on a topic of their choice in the second half of the module. The module is assessed through one piece of coursework (3,000 words). Advance Jurisprudence provides an opportunity for reflection on the philosophical foundations of law and should appeal to students who are interested in understanding more about the essential nature of legal systems and legal practice.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – ELECTIVES

Third year Students may elect to take any of the courses below or take additional courses from the courses listed below. Interested students should confer with their mentors before making such decision.

Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6085	Family Law	Students will begin by critically exploring the legal regulation of various family relationships (notably marriage, civil partnerships and cohabitation) in the light of human rights norms and recent reforms. This will involve consideration of the legal requirements for entering into regulated family relationships as well as the legal consequences when such relationships come to an end, both financially and in terms of the arrangements made for children. The module then moves on to explore the conditions under which the state can legitimately intervene in family life and the various orders at its disposal to protect children from abuse and neglect. All of this will be grounded in a detailed review of the statutory framework, the relevant case law and academic commentary.
LLB 6090	Intellectual Property	Due to many forces, the global economy is more integrated than ever before, and intellectual property (IP) rights play an increasingly important role in global markets. As a result, with growing frequency lawyers must be prepared to advise clients on IP issues spanning multiple countries. This course will begin to prepare students for such work by examining the development of international treaties related to various types of IP, including copyrights, patents, trademarks, and trade secrets. These treaties also provide a foundation for considering the national IP laws of various jurisdictions. Policy issues related to the creation of new IP, economic development, distributive justice, and globalization will also be covered.
LLB 6095	International Law	Examination of the nature and sources of international law; procedures for handling disputes and claims; sanctions (e.g., economic, political, war); the roles of the individual, state, region and world organizations (United Nations); law of the sea and space; and an analysis of current problems and trends. Emphasis on substantive law.
LLB 7000	Security Law	This course addresses the law and policy regarding the U.S. government’s national security activities and organizations. Topics include the constitutional, statutory, and international law rules governing the President’s use of military force; targeting killing; military detention; interrogation; the prosecution of war crimes; domestic surveillance; foreign intelligence gathering; and covert action. Students will also study the unique regulatory and judicial procedures applying to national security issues. They will simulate practice as a national security lawyer, analyze historical case studies, and debate current policies.
LLB 7005	Bankruptcy Law	This is a survey of the United States Bankruptcy Code, with special emphasis on corporate reorganization. We begin by asking whether federal regulation of insolvency is necessary. Are state laws inadequate for dealing with the financial

		distress of individuals and businesses? As we debate this question, we will develop a set of policies that optimal bankruptcy law should serve. These policies will help frame our discussion as we study the principal provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, such as the automatic stay, claim valuation, strong-arm powers, absolute priority rule, and cram-down. We will ask whether these provisions serve optimal bankruptcy policy. Although we will emphasize corporate reorganization, most of the Code's provisions apply equally to corporate and consumer bankruptcies.
LLB 7010	Legal Practice Management/Professional Skills	This course applies design theory toward building and managing law practice. Students should expect to learn how to measure the work they perform as a lawyer and apply that toward the creation of a small law firm. Regardless of the type of firm where a lawyer decides to work, one must be comfortable with the business of practicing law in order to not only effectively represent clients with clear communications about the cost of your services, but also to recognize your value as a professional.
LLB 7030	Banking & Security of Financial Institutions	This course discusses the role of banks and financial intermediaries in the economy, and to protect the security of the U.S. and EU financial infrastructure. It explains the special status of the banking system in the economy and why the financial industry is so prone to crises. Strengths and shortcomings of the current regulatory framework will be discussed with the aim of providing students with a lasting conceptual framework. The course will discuss causes and consequences of the Financial Crisis of 2007- 23 and relate the material to current financial news.
LLB 7035	Environmental Law	Legal processes for the management of natural resources and the control of pollution and other adverse influences on the environment; federal statutes and administrative devices affecting the environment; legal control of air and water pollution, noise, pesticides and environmental toxicants; land use planning and growth control; public lands management; energy conservation and regulation; wildlife protection; solid waste management; and private law remedies affecting the foregoing. Emphasis is on federal statutes and regulations.
LLB 7040	Patent Law	This course covers the basic principles of U.S. patent law. The course will examine issues that arise in the acquisition and assertion of patent rights, including patent validity requirements, the elements of a claim of patent infringement, affirmative defenses to such a claim, and remedies for infringement.
LLB 7045	Worker's Compensation Law	An examination of the legal principles governing the compensation of employees or their dependents for injuries or loss of life arising out of employment or occurring during the course of employment; alternatives to statutory compensation schemes; causation and other factors affecting claims status to sue; and related problems.

LLB 7050	Federal Courts/Judicial Administration	The relationship of the federal courts to Congress and to the states. Topics may include judicial review; standing and justifiability; congressional power to regulate jurisdiction; legislative courts; federal question, diversity, removal, civil rights, and habeas corpus jurisdiction; state sovereign immunity; Supreme Court appellate jurisdiction; abstention; federalism doctrines; and federal common law. Trial and appellate courts shape the law with which lawyers work daily. This course deals with the factors that shape those courts. They are factors of major public policy interest to all lawyers and of direct practical interest to lawyers who anticipate working in the courts temporarily as law clerks or regularly as litigators. The seminar examines: (1) court organization and structure, and the personnel of the courts; the judicial selection process and the roles of executive officials, legislators, political parties, the bar, judges and would-be judges; the ethical rules that govern judges and mechanisms for dealing with judicial disability and misbehavior; public and private sources of education for (and influence of) judges about basic aspects of judging as well as complex scientific and technical matters; the processes and politics of adopting and amending rules of procedure; how judges and legislators interact about legislation that affects the administration of justice, including the funding of the judicial branch; the uneasy relationship between courts and the news media that communicate judicial decisions and court activities to the public, and special topics, such as the debate over the proper role of trial judges in managing litigation and encouraging settlement and whether those activities are causing a deleterious decline in the proportion of cases terminated by trial, and whether the nation's appellate system can maintain small, collegial appellate courts in the face of increasing appellate caseloads.
LLB 7055	Introduction to Internship	Under the supervision of a practicing attorney, legal or governmental organization, and faculty supervisor, students learn about the Lawyering process firsthand by interning in the private or public sector and attending a classroom component. Students develop reflective learning and problem-solving skills, increase their substantive legal knowledge, explore issues of professionalism and ethics, and gain a deeper understanding of the legal system and the practice of law. Students may register for a three-credit internship and must have their field placement approved by the Director. This program has special rules with respect to who may register and what requirements must be satisfied to earn credits under this program.
LLB 7060	Bar Examination Practicum	The objective of this course is to begin the bar exam preparation process by focusing on bar exam-taking skills and techniques. The course will provide strategies and techniques for answering essays, multiple choice and performance test questions of the type contained on the Uniform Bar Exam. Because these activities require a degree of substantive knowledge, the course will review portions of

		selected Multistate Bar Exam subjects. Students will be required to complete practice essays, multiple choice, and performance test questions, and they will receive feedback on their answers.

YOUR LEGAL JOURNEY AWAITS!

Cavalla International University

The Avenger - Barclay College of Law Review

The Avenger - Barclay College of Law Review is a law school organization whose primary purpose is to publish a journal of legal and judicial scholarship. In addition, the Law Review aims to be an effective research tool for practicing lawyers and students, and to provide opportunities for its student members to develop their own editing and writing skills. The organization is part of the Cavalla International University - Barclay College of Law; student editors make all editorial and organizational decisions and, together with a professional business staff, carry out day-to-day operations. Its members are second- and third-year Barclay Law students who are dedicated to legal journalism.

The Law Review is published monthly from January through September, including a special Supreme Court issue and a Developments in the Law issue each April. The Law Review publishes articles, essays, journals, and book reviews by internal and external authors, academics, as well as judges and legal practitioners, and alongside pieces by student editors, including Notes, as well as comments on recent cases, legislation, and other legal developments. All pieces undergo a rigorous editorial process, and all students' writing is unsigned. Authors interested in publishing in the Law Review are invited to submit manuscripts for consideration at barclaylawreview@cavallauniversity.education, and review a sample article for formatting requirements at <https://digitalcommons.wcl.american.edu/tma/vol9/iss2/3/>.

Law Review and Copyright Policies

Who Can Submit?

Law students may submit an original article(s) or journal(s) to be considered for publication in The Avenger, provided he or she owns the copyright to the work being submitted or is authorized by the copyright owner or owners to submit the article. Authors are the initial owners of the copyrights to their works (an exception in the non-academic world to this might exist if the authors have, as a condition of employment, agreed to transfer copyright to their employer).

General Submission Rules

Submitted journals cannot have been previously published, nor be forthcoming in an archival journal or book (print or electronic). Please note: "publication" in a working-paper series does not constitute prior publication, and any plagiarism (without proper citation) in his or her articles or journals is subject to disqualification for publication. In addition, by submitting material to The Avenger, the author is stipulating that the material is not currently under review at another journal (electronic or print), and that he or she will not submit the material to another journal (electronic or print) until the completion of the editorial decision process at The Avenger. If you have concerns about the submission terms for The Avenger, please contact Editor-In-Chief or Asst. Editor-In-Chief for additional information.

General Submission Rules

Once articles and journals are reviewed and approved for publication by the Law Review Editorial Board. The law student will be contacted immediately and be published on under The Avenger – Barclay College of Law Review website, and on SelectedWorks – Bepress.
