CORE VALUES

Cavalla International University is a Liberia International Accelerated University. Currently, the university offers all its programs online. The faculty at Cavalla International University (CIU) endeavors to provide excellent, affordable, and flexible educational programs to all its students. Cavalla International University was established in 1990 as a correspondence school, specializing in providing high quality professional education to working adults who wanted to pursue a specific area of expertise in Accounting, Business, Finance, Human Resource, Computer training and Marketing. The school continues to provide professional education on a course-by-course basis until 1998 when the board and faculty approved the college to be a full-fledged degree granting institution. The Doctor of Juris (J.D.) and the undergraduate degrees were subsequently initiated in the same year and the college was reclassified as a university.

The primary goal of the university since then has been to provide excellent professional education to busy working adults who may not be able to attend traditional university due to family commitment, job commitment, high cost of attending college/university and other demands of society that may prevent career minded people from pursuing their academic goals. In 2005 the university was approved to begin granting master's degrees and three years later in 2008 the Board of Trustees approved the university to grant Doctor of Philosophy Degrees. The university does not have residency requirements for students. As an international university, CIU endeavors to recruit qualified and reputable professors from the international community. The university offers professional and academic degrees. Cavalla International University has excellent world class educational programs. The programs are inexpensive in comparison to American/Liberian Universities with similar programs, it has flexible programs to meet the needs of busy working adults and mothers. The online nature of the University affords students the chance to learn both theory and practice of their specific area of study.

The University has an open enrollment policy. Students can apply anytime during a semester. However, applications received after a semester have begun will be processed and evaluated for the next semester. Students can choose to enroll in one of our accelerated programs. The standard semester is 12 weeks, and the University has two accelerated programs: 6 weeks and 8 weeks. Cavalla International University has excellent world class educational programs. ## TRANSFERABILITY OF CREDITS

The transferability of credits you earn at Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law is at the discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the degree or certificate you earn in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the credits, degree or certificate that you earn at this institution are not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason, you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. Contact the Registrar Office for additional information for transfer credits.

Those who are attending the JD Program or dual degree program can transfer up to 42 academic credits for course work completed toward an LLB degree program. International students can transfer up to 18 academic credits for course work completed toward an LLB degree program. Undergraduate students must complete the full 120 academic credits at the law school. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law to determine if your credits, degree or certificate will transfer. For more information on the transferability of credits into Cavalla International University – Barclay School of Law, please refer to the Transfer Credit policies, found within the Academic Policies section of this catalog.

United States Bar Requirements

International students who have completed LL.B. degree programs outside the United States may be eligible to take the bar exam in certain jurisdictions in the United States. Transfers may be possible to the 4-year joint LLB/JD degree (where years 3 and 4 are spent at another accredited law school) or the Law with Another Legal System LLB, where year 3 is spent at another regionally accredited law school or university in the United States or abroad. International LLB students who plan to take a U.S. state bar exam must carefully investigate the relevant requirements prior to beginning their studies. Some jurisdictions impose additional requirements. A comprehensive chart for the qualification policies of each U.S. jurisdiction for foreign educated attorneys can be viewed on the National Council of Bar Examiners' website at <https://reports.ncbex.org/comp-guide/charts/chart-4/>. It is the responsibility of the applicant to read the information provided by the Board of Legal Examiners in the state where they want to take the bar exam. It is also the applicant's responsibility to contact that state's Board of Legal Examiners with any questions, submit all documents and fees in a timely manner, and complete any LLB courses / U.S. law courses required by that state's Board of Legal Examiners. Each state has final authority to determine whether an applicant meets the requirements to sit for its bar examination. A summary of bar admission information by jurisdiction and contact information for each bar admission agency can be viewed at <https://www.ncbex.org/jurisdictions>

International Licensing Requirements

International students who have completed LL.B. degree programs in the United States may be eligible to take the bar exam in certain jurisdictions outside of their respected country. Eligibility to sit for a particular state bar exam varies from state to state. Completion of the LL.M. degree in itself does not guarantee eligibility to take a bar examination. In some states, including New York, California, and Texas, the completion of an LL.M. degree along with certain other criteria will allow attorneys with a non-U.S. law degree to sit for the bar exam. For more information, please refer to the Comprehensive Guide to Bar Admissions Requirements published by the National Conference of Bar Examiners (NCBE). For information on the California bar requirements for foreign trained attorneys, please visit the State Bar of California website.

LLB 6000	Introduction to Law, Legal Writing &amp; Research	Introduces the student to research methods, analysis of legal concepts, and the art of legal writing. Students begin to learn the research, analysis and writing process through an assigned series of open and closed memoranda.
LLB 6005	Laws of Contract	This course is a foundation that is required by the legal professional bodies for professional practice. The aim is that students should acquire a solid knowledge of the legal principles and rules applied by the courts in Contract Law, whilst also developing fundamental legal skills of case analysis, synthesis and problem-solving. Students will undertake the study of Contract Law in its social, political and commercial context.
LLB 6010	Criminal Law	This course examines substantive criminal law both in its common law and modern statutory forms. Topics covered include culpability required for criminal responsibility (minimum conduct, voluntariness, etc.); exculpatory doctrines and defenses (duress, insanity, mistake, etc.); homicide, rape, and other criminal acts; and domestic violence. The course also explores the problems associated with imposition of criminal sanctions, as well as reasons for and appropriateness of particular punishments, including the death penalty.
LLB 6015	Law of Torts	This module introduces students to civil wrongs which are actionable at common law. These actionable wrongs, or 'torts', include negligence, trespassing to the person, nuisance, and defamation. In addition to learning about the legal principles which govern the application of each tort, the Law of Tort module offers students an insight into the wider policy landscape by examining the law's role in compensating injury, loss, or damage. The Law of Tort is one of the seven Foundation Subjects of relevance to students who intend to practice law in United States and EU countries.
LLB 6020	Civil &amp; Criminal Procedures	This course focuses on the process and procedures of a civil and criminal lawsuit, from the filing of the complaint through the final appeal. The course will provide an introduction to the structure and operation of the state and federal court systems in the United States and will concentrate on cases brought in the federal courts, conducted pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil and Criminal Procedures. Topics include pleadings, pre-trial

		motions, the discovery process, trial by jury, judgments and relief, motions after judgment, and appeals. In addition, this course covers the constitutional law governing criminal procedure from arrest to trial, including right to counsel, arrest, searches, wiretapping, electronic eavesdropping, entrapment, interrogation and confession, lineups, showups, other pre-trial identification procedures, and grand jury investigations.
LLB 6025	Equity &amp; Trusts (Wills, Trusts &amp; Estates)	An introduction to the law of gratuitous transfers and decedents estates. Topics studied are intestate succession; elective share; wills, gifts and trusts. Primary emphasis is on those aspects which are considered important to the planning of family property arrangements. Throughout the course, the relevant portions of the Uniform Probate Code and the New York Estates, Powers and Trusts Law are studied.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – SECOND YEAR
Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6030	Land Law (Property Law)	The land law course examines the estates and interests in land in United States and European countries. Students will examine freehold and leasehold estates, as well as interests in land such as easements, restrictive covenants and mortgages. The module places a heavy emphasis on case law and statute use. These sources are used to put the various land rights into context and to demonstrate how estates and interests can be protected using the legislative regime.
LLB 6035	Constitutional &amp; Administrative Law	This course is the basic course on United States constitutional law. The course explores the architecture of the United States Constitution and focuses on topics illustrating three core structural aspects of American constitutionalism: (1) the tradition of constitutional review by the judicial branch; (2) the configuration, interaction, and powers of the three branches of the national government; and (3) the Constitution’s distribution of power between the federal and state governments. Constitutional and administrative (or public) law is concerned primarily with the legal rules and processes that structure and regulates a country’s government, i.e. the relations amongst its key institutions, and between these institutions and the individual citizen.
LLB 6040	Evidence	This course involves analysis of the principles governing proof of facts in litigation under the Federal Rules of Evidence and under common law. Areas emphasized include relevance, hearsay, direct-examination and cross-examination, impeachment of witnesses, expert testimony, and privileges.
LLB 6045	Commercial and International Trade Law	This course involves an in-depth look, in a seminar-type setting, at different state-to-state dispute settlement systems in the international trade area. Although the principal focus will be WTO dispute settlement, the course will also examine the new or re-invigorated mechanisms in regional agreements (e.g., RCEP, CPTPP) and bilateral trade and investment agreements of the United States (USMCA, CAFTA) and the EU. In addition to examining the treaty provisions

		themselves, the course will involve the close reading of arbitral decisions, as a medium to examine real-world systemic issues regarding dispute settlement, such as the function of terms of reference, approaches to treaty interpretation, confidentiality, coherence between different bodies of international law, the role of precedent, standard of review, the scope of appellate review, implementation and compliance, and remedies. At the same time, students will gain familiarity with some of the leading substantive issues in international trade law.
LLB 6050	Human Rights &amp; Social Justice Law	In this course, students will be introduced to the fundamental concepts and techniques of legal study and legal reasoning as well as the skills and attributes that you will be expected to develop as a law student. To enable this, the module will support you to actively engage in your personal and professional development and, in keeping with the identity and mission of the school, will set the scene for exploring key legal systems, processes and concepts through an explicit social justice perspective. You will develop your understanding of how the English legal system operates as well as exploring fundamental questions including ‘What is Law?’, ‘Why is Law the way it is?’, and ‘How does Law evolve?’. You will be introduced to a range of theoretical perspectives of law and explore how they help us understand, apply, and critique the application of the law in ways that promote social justice values such as equality, inclusion, fairness and access to justice.
LLB 6055	Remedies &amp; Public Law	The study of the principal remedies available to litigants in private and public law litigation, including damages, injunctions, and restitution. The course will address compensatory and punitive damages; preventive relief, including injunctions and declaratory judgments; preventing unjust enrichment through restitution; ancillary remedies, such as contempt, levy and execution, attachment, garnishment, receivership, and attorneys' fees; and remedial defenses. Discussion will be given to the modern public law structural injunction, fluid class recoveries, and the tort reform movement. The modes of instruction will include case and problem methods. Public Law concerns the law creating and relating to the US and UK’s system of government. The module covers key issues in constitutional and administrative law, exploring legal questions and principles in the wider context of the practice of political actors and institutions. The module’s program of lectures and seminars will support students in developing a range of core legal and transferable skills and becoming effective independent learners.
LLB 6056	Law, Ethics &amp; Governance	This course prepares business managers to function effectively within a legal and ethical environment and to recognize the social responsibility of the business enterprise. Students are exposed to U.S. legal systems and legal processes with emphasis on the areas of business law that are fundamental to the operations of a business entity. The course focuses on several areas of substantive commercial law relevant to the business manager, and is designed to foster the manager’s ability to recognize legal and ethical issues and their managerial implications, minimize the frequency and expense of legal conflict and litigation, as well as to discern the distinction between what is legal, what is ethical, and what is in the best interests of the firm and its stakeholders.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – THIRD YEAR
Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6060	Conflict of Law/International Law	The goal of the course is to offer an introduction to what in some countries is called “Governmental and Private International law” and is called conflict of laws in the US. This course is taught on a comparative basis and must be an “international” introduction to the discipline, meaning it prepares the student for work in several countries in handling cases of civil and of commercial law with foreign elements. The course describes problems that arise and approaches that are possible when a case shows links with more than one country whose laws may apply. The students will be taught to use the tools to resolve practical questions that most often arise in a range of problems in international legal practice or in a business. The comparative nature of the course will force us to look at a plurality of national legal rules and to try and make abstractions from the particular rule; to describe and analyze tendencies or orientations.
LLB 6065	Law of the European Union (EU Law)	This course is aimed to build on the knowledge and skills communicated in the classes of Constitutional Law, and Law and Government in which students study the institutions and judicial system of the European Union and the United States Government. This course introduces students to the substantive law of the European Union and the United States Government; namely the internal market, competition law and policy and discrimination law, and to fulfill the requirements of the Law Society of the European Union and the United States. This course is to encourage interest in and awareness of the continuing process of European integration, and to show how underlying socio-political and economic factors shape the development of European Union law. The course is to further develop students’ transferable skills, in particular problem solving, written communication skills and autonomous learning skills; to encourage independent learning in preparation for the workshops and assessment.
LLB 6070	Professional Responsibility/Public Interest Lawyering	This course explores the attorney’s ethical obligations to the profession, the court, and the client under the rules and requirements that govern attorney’s behavior, thereby allowing students to confront and resolve the ethical dilemmas that arise in the practice of law. This course is an opportunity for students to gain an understanding and insight into issues relating to access to justice and public interest law. You will undertake a placement in a public sector or nonprofit organization, develop skills and undertake tasks within a practical context, apply academic knowledge from your degree, and develop your personal and employability skills within a working environment. This experience will develop an understanding of access to justice policy and public interest law in a practical setting.

LLB 6075	Employment &amp; Labor Law	Students will take an example of employment law, which regulates the relationship between employers and employees. In addition, students will examine labor law that regulates the additional dimension that arises when employees select (or consider selecting) a labor union to represent them in their dealings with their employer.
LLB 6080	Advance Criminal Practice and Immigration	This course will allow students to experience the practical realities of practicing in the field of criminal law. Simulated proceedings each week will explore issues that typically arise during the course of a criminal prosecution. Each class session will simulate a different stage of a federal criminal prosecution, progressing chronologically from the preliminary/detention hearing through grand jury presentation, a variety of pretrial motions, a handful of trial related issues, sentencing, and ending with a supervised release violation hearing. In addition, this course will prepare students in substantive and procedural law and also in the skills required to obtain needed information, prepare necessary applications, and guide clients through the visa process, as well as advise businesses on immigration compliance issues.
LLB 6026	Advance Jurisprudence	Advance Jurisprudence aims to give students an understanding of the basic problems of legal theory: what is law? Why do we obey it? How is law related to morality? Is an unjust law really a law? How should judges decide cases? At the same time the module will introduce students to the work of some of the most important modern legal theorists. Students will also consider some of the crucial concerns of contemporary legal philosophy, such as the relationship between the rule of law, rights and democracy. Jurisprudence is taught in weekly lectures and longer fortnightly seminars. This maximizes the time available for discussion and evaluation of each week’s reading assignment, in both smaller sub-groups and the class as whole, which is the most interesting and effective way of gaining an appreciation of legal philosophy. Students will produce a group presentation on a topic of their choice in the second half of the module. The module is assessed through one piece of coursework (3,000 words). Advance Jurisprudence provides an opportunity for reflection on the philosophical foundations of law and should appeal to students who are interested in understanding more about the essential nature of legal systems and legal practice.

BACHELOR OF LAW (LLB) PROGRAM – ELECTIVES

Third year Students may elect to take any of the courses below or take additional courses from the courses listed below. Interested students should confer with their mentors before making such decision.

Course No.	Course	Course Description
LLB 6085	Family Law	Students will begin by critically exploring the legal regulation of various family relationships (notably marriage, civil partnerships and cohabitation) in the light of human rights norms and recent reforms. This will involve consideration of the legal requirements for entering into regulated family relationships as well as the legal consequences when such relationships come to an end, both financially and in terms of the arrangements made for children. The module then moves on to explore the conditions under which the state can legitimately intervene in family life and the various orders at its disposal to protect children from abuse and neglect. All of this will be grounded in a detailed review of the statutory framework, the relevant case law and academic commentary.
LLB 6090	Intellectual Property	Due to many forces, the global economy is more integrated than ever before, and intellectual property (IP) rights play an increasingly important role in global markets. As a result, with growing frequency lawyers must be prepared to advise clients on IP issues spanning multiple countries. This course will begin to prepare students for such work by examining the development of international treaties related to various types of IP, including copyrights, patents, trademarks, and trade secrets. These treaties also provide a foundation for considering the national IP laws of various jurisdictions. Policy issues related to the creation of new IP, economic development, distributive justice, and globalization will also be covered.
LLB 6095	International Law	Examination of the nature and sources of international law; procedures for handling disputes and claims; sanctions (e.g., economic, political, war); the roles of the individual, state, region and world organizations (United Nations); law of the sea and space; and an analysis of current problems and trends. Emphasis on substantive law.
LLB 7000	Security Law	This course addresses the law and policy regarding the U.S. government’s national security activities and organizations. Topics include the constitutional, statutory, and international law rules governing the President’s use of military force; targeting killing; military detention; interrogation; the prosecution of war crimes; domestic surveillance; foreign intelligence gathering; and covert action. Students will also study the unique regulatory and judicial procedures applying to national security issues. They will simulate practice as a national security lawyer, analyze historical case studies, and debate current policies.
LLB 7005	Bankruptcy Law	This is a survey of the United States Bankruptcy Code, with special emphasis on corporate reorganization. We begin by asking whether federal regulation of insolvency is necessary. Are state laws inadequate for dealing with the financial

		distress of individuals and businesses? As we debate this question, we will develop a set of policies that optimal bankruptcy law should serve. These policies will help frame our discussion as we study the principal provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, such as the automatic stay, claim valuation, strong-arm powers, absolute priority rule, and cram-down. We will ask whether these provisions serve an optimal bankruptcy policy. Although we will emphasize corporate reorganization, most of the Code's provisions apply equally to corporate and consumer bankruptcies.
LLB 7010	Legal Practice Management/Professional Skills	This course applies design theory toward building and managing law practice. Students should expect to learn how to measure the work they perform as a lawyer and apply that toward the creation of a small law firm. Regardless of the type of firm where a lawyer decides to work, one must be comfortable with the business of practicing law in order to not only effectively represent clients with clear communications about the cost of your services, but also to recognize your value as a professional.
LLB 7030	Banking &amp; Security of Financial Institutions	This course discusses the role of banks and financial intermediaries in the economy, and to protect the security of the U.S. and EU financial infrastructure. It explains the special status of the banking system in the economy and why the financial industry is so prone to crises. Strengths and shortcomings of the current regulatory framework will be discussed with the aim of providing students with a lasting conceptual framework. The course will discuss the causes and consequences of the Financial Crisis of 2007- 23 and relate the material to current financial news.
LLB 7035	Environmental Law	Legal processes for the management of natural resources and the control of pollution and other adverse influences on the environment; federal statutes and administrative devices affecting the environment; legal control of air and water pollution, noise, pesticides and environmental toxicants; land use planning and growth control; public lands management; energy conservation and regulation; wildlife protection; solid waste management; and private law remedies affecting the foregoing. Emphasis is on federal statutes and regulations.
LLB 7040	Patent Law	This course covers the basic principles of U.S. patent law. The course will examine issues that arise in the acquisition and assertion of patent rights, including patent validity requirements, the elements of a claim of patent infringement, affirmative defenses to such a claim, and remedies for infringement.
LLB 7045	Worker's Compensation Law	An examination of the legal principles governing the compensation of employees or their dependents for injuries or loss of life arising out of employment or occurring during the course of employment; alternatives to statutory compensation schemes; causation and other factors affecting claims status to sue; and related problems.

LLB 7050	Federal Courts/Judicial Administration	The relationship of the federal courts to Congress and to the states. Topics may include judicial review; standing and justifiability; congressional power to regulate jurisdiction; legislative courts; federal questions, diversity, removal, civil rights, and habeas corpus jurisdiction; state sovereign immunity; Supreme Court appellate jurisdiction; abstention; federalism doctrines; and federal common law. Trial and appellate courts shape the law with which lawyers work daily. This course deals with the factors that shape those courts. They are factors of major public policy interest to all lawyers and of direct practical interest to lawyers who anticipate working in the courts temporarily as law clerks or regularly as litigators. The seminar examines: (1) court organization and structure, and the personnel of the courts; the judicial selection process and the roles of executive officials, legislators, political parties, the bar, judges and would-be judges; the ethical rules that govern judges and mechanisms for dealing with judicial disability and misbehavior; public and private sources of education for (and influence of) judges about basic aspects of judging as well as complex scientific and technical matters; the processes and politics of adopting and amending rules of procedure; how judges and legislators interact about legislation that affects the administration of justice, including the funding of the judicial branch; the uneasy relationship between courts and the news media that communicate judicial decisions and court activities to the public, and special topics, such as the debate over the proper role of trial judges in managing litigation and encouraging settlement and whether those activities are causing a deleterious decline in the proportion of cases terminated by trial, and whether the nation's appellate system can maintain small, collegial appellate courts in the face of increasing appellate caseloads.
LLB 7055	Introduction to Internship	Under the supervision of a practicing attorney, legal or governmental organization, and faculty supervisor, students learn about the Lawyering process firsthand by interning in the private or public sector and attending a classroom component. Students develop reflective learning and problem-solving skills, increase their substantive legal knowledge, explore issues of professionalism and ethics, and gain a deeper understanding of the legal system and the practice of law. Students may register for a three-credit internship and must have their field placement approved by the Director. This program has special rules with respect to who may register and what requirements must be satisfied to earn credits under this program.
LLB 7060	Bar Examination Practicum	The objective of this course is to begin the bar exam preparation process by focusing on bar exam-taking skills and techniques. The course will provide strategies and techniques for answering essays, multiple choice and performance test questions of the type contained on the Uniform Bar Exam. Because these activities require a degree of substantive knowledge, the course will review portions of selected Multistate Bar Exam subjects. Students will be required to complete practice essays, multiple choice, and performance test questions, and they will receive feedback on their answers.
