

Christopher L. Kempson J.D., S.J.D. (Candidate)
Associate Dean & Professor of Law
Barclay College of Law

Christopher Kempson is a dedicated educator, legal scholar, and military veteran with over 30 years of leadership, teaching, and technical instruction experience across academic and military environments. As a graduate of Juris Doctor (J.D.), Master of Laws (LL.M.), and Criminal Justice, he brings a wealth of practical knowledge to the classroom, specializing in law, criminal justice, and aviation training. Currently pursuing a Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.), he remains committed to continuous learning and academic excellence.

Throughout his career, Professor Kempson has been instrumental in mentoring and educating diverse student populations, leveraging his expertise in legal instruction, operations management, instructional techniques, and student development. His engaging and interactive teaching style fosters an environment where students are encouraged to think critically, debate complex legal issues, and develop practical problem-solving skills.

In addition to his role in higher education, Professor Kempson has an extensive background in military training and aviation instruction, having served in various leadership capacities. His experience includes developing training programs, standardizing instructional processes, and advising high-level military and government personnel.

At Barclay College of Law, he teaches introductory and advanced law courses, guiding students through the intricacies of American law, criminal justice, and legal research. He also plays a pivotal role in curriculum development, academic mentorship, and faculty leadership.

Professor Kempson is passionate about helping students navigate their legal education and career paths, ensuring they are well-equipped for success in the legal field. His combination of real-world experience, academic expertise, and commitment to student growth makes him a valuable asset to Barclay College of Law.

Education:

- Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.) (Candidate) – Cavalla International University (Expected Dec. 2025)
- Master of Laws (LL.M.) – Cavalla International University
- Juris Doctor (J.D.) – Cavalla International University
- Master of Arts in Criminal Justice/Law – American Military University
- Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice/Law – University of South Carolina

Areas of Expertise:

- Legal Instruction
- American Law
- International Law
- Criminal Justice & Law Enforcement
- Instructional Techniques & Student Development
- Aviation Training & Operations Management
- Emergency Medicine & Military Leadership

Professor Kempson looks forward to empowering future legal professionals and contributing to the academic excellence of Barclay College of Law.